ConsultNet Celebrates 12 Years of Technology Staffing Success

Salt Lake City, September 16, 2008 – ConsultNet, Utah’s premier technology and engineering staffing provider, celebrates its 12th anniversary today. Based in South Jordan, ConsultNet matches the best independent consultants, engineers and IT professionals with the world's most successful and innovative businesses.

“ConsultNet has grown up with Utah’s technology companies,” said Spencer Shaffer, President of ConsultNet. “With the most experienced technical recruiters in the state, ConsultNet has played a vital role in staffing Utah’s most prominent technology organizations.”

In the past two years, ConsultNet has acquired a 32% increase in new clients in Utah and have placed over 800 technology professionals nationwide.

“The process ConsultNet uses to qualify talent is more in-depth and strategic than any other staffing agency,” said Shaffer. “The result is more successful placements and strong relationships, which explains why ConsultNet has experienced escalating growth for the past 12 years.”

ConsultNet has also been a key player in starting a nationwide dialogue on the growing issue of the technology employment crisis. As discussed in the ConsultNet 2008 Technology Staffing Outlook (available at www.consultnet.com), the United States is suffering from a lack of qualified technology professionals.

“We are experiencing the biggest technology hiring crisis in history. With fewer students graduating with IT-related degrees in the last five years and 77 million baby-boomers on the verge of retirement, CIOs and other execs are faced with major staffing challenges,” said Shaffer. “ConsultNet is in the unique position of witnessing the struggles and obstacles facing technology employers and professionals alike and this report helps highlight these issues to start a dialogue on how we can work to resolve these problems.”

Despite the growing unemployment statistics, ConsultNet's Utah clients have increased their technology placements by 72% over the last two years – indicating an increasing number of companies unable to fulfill their IT positions and turning to a professional staffing company to help fill this demand.

“We are honored that organizations trust us to find the right individuals to help them grow their business,” Shaffer said. “With a refined formula that produces successful staffing results, ConsultNet is poised for continued growth and success.”
